Dear Mr. Famie,

Cancer is a disease that impacts the entire family. Both immediate and extended. The Rainbow Connection knows this first-hand. We have been making dreams come true for Michigan youth with life threatening illness since 1985. Unfortunately, many of our recipients are battling cancer. That is why we are proud to support "Those on the Frontlines of Cancer."

The diagnosis and treatment of cancer are a stressful and threatening experience, which can be emotionally devastating to children. Despite the improved prognosis, the course of cancer treatment has tremendous impact on children. While children are incredibly resilient, the emotional and physical strain on them and family members can be overwhelming.

The Rainbow Connection has demonstrated over the past 33 years that when an ill child is allowed to dream, it's magical. The "wish" child and family members are able to focus on something positive and exciting, giving them hope and lifting their spirits. They are able to look forward to something other than doctor visits, medical treatments and/or hospital stays.

For the wellbeing of families battling a cancer diagnosis, this documentary will assist in educating the struggles that the child and family face. For some, this diagnosis brings fear and alienation. It's time communities understood how they can bring hope and support to these warriors. To learn how brave these young people are and how eager they are to be accepted by others with positive attitudes and good wishes.

The Rainbow Connection is delighted to support your efforts and we look forward to the making of this documentary. It is our belief it will empower the communities we serve to compassionately support our efforts even more.

With gratitude,

George J. Miller
