Dear Keith,

Thank you for including Kids Kicking Cancer in your upcoming documentary Those on the Frontlines of Cancer. We are honored to be part of it.

Kids Kicking Cancer is a non-profit 501c3 organization that provides free programming for children both inpatient and outpatient, in the mind-body techniques found in the martial arts. Our mission is to ease the pain of very sick children while empowering them to heal physically, spiritually and emotionally.

Through an innovative program that merges modern integrative medicine with traditional martial arts, Kids Kicking Cancer addresses the overwhelming needs of children with illness. Specially trained black belt martial artists teach breathing, visualization, and relaxation techniques, in addition to traditional martial arts moves to help empower the children and provide them with a sense of power, peace and purpose. Martial arts classes, support during hospital and clinic procedures, uniforms, and transportation to and from class are provided to families at no cost.

Since its founding in Metro Detroit in 1999 Kids Kicking Cancer has worked with over 6000 children. The program started with one class at Children's Hospital of Michigan and has since expanded to over 50 hospitals in 8 states and 5 countries.

We fully support the creation of your documentary and look forward to adding the inspiring stories of Kids Kicking Cancer powerful martial artists to your already impressive list of participating organizations.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Elimelech Goldberg
