

FEATURED

Novi director premieres documentary at Emagine Theater

By Sharon Longman For MediaNewsGroup 13 hrs ago Comments

Keith Famie of Novi will be premiering his new documentary "Those on the Front Lines of Cancer" at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 2 at the Emagine Theater, 200 N. Main St., Royal Oak.

The event will be emceed by Famie, the director and producer, and media personality and WOMC morning radio host JoAnne Purtan. The special 90-minute cut from the three-hour film features heartfelt stories and several locally and nationally well-known medical professionals.

Local Director Producer Keith Famie interviews Vietnam veteran Darrel Lukas about his prostate cancer diagnosis at the VA Medical Center in Ann Arbor during filming of Visionalist Entertainment Production's documentary "Those on the Front Lines of Cancer."

Photo courtesy of Visionalist Entertainment Productions

To purchase tickets for $10, visit bit.ly/thoseonfrontlinesofcancer.

Part one of the documentary will air from 9 to 10 p.m. Oct. 10 and the final two hours from 9 to 11 p.m. Oct. 17 on Detroit Public Television/PBS, Channel 56 in Detroit.

For more information, email Kara Malack at kmalackvep@gmail.com or visit ontodaysfrontlines.com/cancer or facebook.com/thoseonthefrontlinesofcancer

